

BONUS 03 • INVITATION

30 Nights of Prayer

One short prayer a night, said together if you can, said alone if you are the only one praying tonight. Scripture references are given so you can pray in whatever translation you already trust.

Faith is an invitation in this workbook, never a requirement. If this is not your season, you can set this bonus aside. The rest of the reset still stands.

NIGHTS 1-15

Notice and Speak

Week 1 · Notice – Nights 1-7 · Week 2 · Speak – Nights 8-14 · Night 15 begins Trust.

Night 1. God, help us see clearly – not to assign blame, just to notice where the distance actually lives. (Psalms 139:23-24)

Night 2. Show us the moment connection quietly became logistics, and give us the patience to notice it without shame. (Proverbs 4:23)

Night 3. Slow us down enough to actually hear each other's small, easy-to-miss bids for attention. (James 1:19)

Night 4. We bring You what we're really longing for, even the parts we haven't said out loud to each other yet. (Psalms 62:8)

Night 5. Where we've told ourselves a hopeless story about this marriage, help us see the truer, gentler one. (Isaiah 43:18-19)

Night 6. Give us the courage for one small turn toward each other this week, however small it feels. (1 Thessalonians 5:11)

Night 7. Thank You for whatever we were willing to notice this week, even the uncomfortable parts. (Psalms 100:4-5)

Night 8. Where fear has kept us quiet, replace it with the steadiness to speak honestly. (2 Timothy 1:7)

Night 9. Make us quick to repair and slow to escalate, even when we're tired or hurt. (Matthew 5:9)

Night 10. Help us find the softer truth underneath our sharpest complaints. (Proverbs 20:5)

Night 11. Let the words we practice this week actually land as gentle, even under pressure. (Proverbs 16:24)

Night 12. Season our speech with grace tonight, especially in the small, ordinary friction. (Colossians 4:6)

Night 13. Cast out whatever fear is keeping either of us from being fully honest. (1 John 4:18)

Night 14. Thank You for whatever honest words got said this week – help us keep speaking truth in love. (Ephesians 4:15)

Night 15. Remind us that we're stronger noticing and rebuilding this together than either of us could alone. (Ecclesiastes 4:9-10)

Trust and Reconnect

Week 3 · Trust – Nights 16–21 · Week 4 · Reconnect – Nights 22–30.

Night 16. Teach us to number these small, ordinary days rightly, instead of waiting for a dramatic one. (Psalms 90:12)

Night 17. Let our yes be yes this week – help us keep the small promises we make to each other. (Matthew 5:37)

Night 18. Thank You for the small deposits we made into each other this week, even the ones that went unnoticed. (1 Thessalonians 5:18)

Night 19. Give us the patience to keep this small habit going, even after the novelty wears off. (Galatians 6:9)

Night 20. Help us be genuinely devoted to each other in this one small, ordinary ritual tonight. (Romans 12:10)

Night 21. We commit this rebuilding to You, trusting it more than our own uncertain feelings about how it's going. (Proverbs 3:5-6)

Night 22. Thank You for whatever has actually shifted this month, however small it looks from the outside. (Psalms 126:3)

Night 23. Thank You that Your mercy toward us – and the mercy we owe each other – is new again tomorrow morning. (Lamentations 3:22-23)

Night 24. As we write to each other tonight, help our words be true, specific, and kind. (Song of Solomon 8:6)

Night 25. Be the third strand holding what the two of us alone couldn't hold as well. (Ecclesiastes 4:12)

Night 26. Whatever one word describes this month, thank You for the chance to keep choosing better words going forward. (Proverbs 18:21)

Night 27. Thank You for carrying the good work You started in this marriage this month, even in its unfinished shape. (Philippians 1:6)

Night 28. Help us forgive tonight – each other, and ourselves – the way we've been forgiven. (Colossians 3:13)

Night 29. Tomorrow we choose again. Tonight, prepare our hearts to mean it. (Joshua 24:15)

Night 30. Wherever this marriage goes next, we go together – thank You for thirty days that brought us back to that choice. (Ruth 1:16-17)
