

BONUS 04 • FIVE MINUTES

Weekly Check-In Card

Use it tonight before Day 1, again on Days 7, 14, and 21, and then monthly after Day 30. This is the one habit built specifically to outlast the workbook.

Five minutes, no longer. If something bigger surfaces, name it and set a separate time to talk it through. Answer honestly even when the honest answer is "not great."

How are we, really?

Date

1. How are we, really?

Not a status update - an honest one-line read on the actual state of things right now.

2. What do we need right now?

Not a wish list - one real, current need, yours or the marriage's.

3. What is one small next step?

Not a plan for the month - one specific, doable thing before the next check-in.

If you are going through this alone, fill it out for yourself anyway. After Day 30, keep this going monthly. It is the smallest habit in this entire workbook, and often the one that matters most a year from now.
